Saverswipes – The Technology

The pressed cellulose towel. Bio-degradable.

The chosen raw materials influence the quality of the end product. With the Saverswipes cellulose towel quality is assured - We unite natural purity, based on the renewable resource wood, with high functionality. This makes the fibers of the towel naturally absorbent and pure. This feature creates numerous products for you, creating a wide application field from hygiene to medicine to technological aspects.

The towel is created using 4.6 to 5.7 tons of pressing power and bio-degradable.

The Product

The container (diameter 40mm, height 14mm) is a two-chamber system. In the outer-chamber, the application fluid is held (max.5ml). The inner-chamber holds a compressed cellulose towel (23x22 cm).

Through applied pressure to the middle, the container opens the valve at the bottom and the fluid from the outer-chamber reaches the inner-chamber with the towel. The towel then fully absorbs the fluid and rises vertically. After this contact, the towel can easily be removed, unfolded and put to use.

Facts & Figures

The container (diameter 40mm, height 14mm) is a two-chamber system. In the outer chamber the fluid is held (max 5ml).

The inner chamber holds a pressed cellulose towel (23X22 cm).

With a firm press to the middle of the container, a valve opens at the bottom, activating the two-chamber system.

The fluid from the outer chamber is released into the inner chamber and absorbed by the towel.

After the activation of the towel with the fluid, it can be easily unfolded and put to use.
